This End-User License Agreement ("EULA") is between Buyer (either an individual or an entity) ("Licensee") and Copeland and/or its Affiliates ("Copeland") and applies to the use of the Copeland software to which this EULA is linked, which includes computer software, firmware, associate media, materials, and documentation, provided by Copeland or incorporated into or used in connection with Copeland Products (collectively, the "Software Products"). The Software Products also include any updates, supplements, and future modifications provided by Copeland to Licensee. Licensee includes Buyer and any authorized agents, employees, or users of Buyer permitted to use the Products. Any software provided along with the Software Product that is associated with a separate end-user license agreement is licensed to Licensee under the terms of that agreement.

This EULA is intended to be used in conjunction with Copeland Cold Chain's Terms including the Terms and Conditions of Sale and of Service, both of which are incorporated herein by this reference. These terms may be found at <https://copeland.com/en-us/terms>. Acceptance of these terms is strictly required, and any different or additional terms or modification thereof are objected to and superseded by these terms. By installing, copying, downloading, accessing, or otherwise using the Software Product, Licensee agrees to be bound by the terms of this EULA and all other terms incorporated herein. The Software Product is protected by the copyright laws and international copyright treaties, as well as other intellectual property laws and treaties, of the United States and other jurisdictions where this EULA is signed. The Software Product is licensed and not sold to Licensee.

1. LICENSE: This EULA grants Licensee a non-exclusive, non-transferable license to use the Software Product on a device Licensee owns, accesses, or controls, and as permitted by the usage rules set forth for Licensee's device. The license granted to Licensee by this EULA contains the following rights: (1) Systems Software: Licensee may install and use one copy of the Software Product on a single computer, including workstation, terminal, or other digital electronic device ("Devices"); (2) Licensee may store or install a copy of the Software Product on a storage device, such as a network server, used only to install or run the Software Product on any of Licensee's Devices using the same internal network server; however, Licensee must acquire and dedicate a license for each Device on or from which the Software Product is installed, used, accessed, displayed, or run that does not use the same internal network server. Licensee is permitted to transfer the Software Product to a difference network server solely in connection with an upgrade of its information technology systems. All rights not expressly granted to Licensee by this EULA are hereby reserved by Copeland. Licensee must be at least eighteen (18) years to use the Software Product. Licensee may only use the Software Product in a manner consistent with this EULA. Licensee may not rent, lease, lend, sell, redistribute, sublicense, decompile, reverse engineer, disassemble, attempt to derive the source code of, modify, or create derivative works of the Software Product. If Licensee breaches this restriction, Licensee may be subject to prosecution and damages. Information provided is for informational purposes only. The use of the Software Product for various purposes should not replace appropriate user judgment, as users will have the best understanding of the context in which the Software Product is being used.

2. UPGRADES & UPDATES:

a. Copeland is under no obligation to provide upgrades to the Software Product. If the Software Product is labeled as an upgrade, Licensee must be properly licensed to use a product identified by Copeland as being eligible for the upgrade in order to use the Software Product. A Software Product labeled as an upgrade replaces and/or supplements the product that formed the basis for Licensee's eligibility for the upgrade. Licensee may use the resulting upgrade product only in accordance with the terms of this EULA. If the Software Product is an upgrade of a component of a package of software programs Licensee licensed as a single product, the Software Product may be used and transferred only as part of that single product package and may not be separated for use on more than one Device.

b. The Software Product may automatically download and install updates from Copeland from time to time. These updates are designed to improve, enhance, and further develop the Software Product and may take the form of bug fixes, new or enhanced functions, and completely new versions. These updates are provided at no extra cost to Licensee. If Licensee does not want the Software Product to be automatically updated, Licensee may be able to set its device settings to prohibit automatic updates.

3. CONFIDENTIALITY & INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY: Licensee acknowledges the Software Product contains proprietary trade secrets of Copeland and agrees to maintain the confidentiality of the Software Product using at least as great a degree of care as Licensee uses or would use to maintain the confidentiality of its own most confidential information, but in no way less than a reasonable degree of care. The Software Product and all information, documentation, and materials available on or through the Software Product are protected by trademark, copyright, and/or other intellectual property laws and international treaty provisions. All websites, corporate names, service marks, trademarks, trade names, logos, and domain names (collectively "marks") of Copeland are and shall remain the exclusive property of Copeland. Nothing in this EULA shall grant Licensee the right or license to use any of the marks. All rights relating to the Software Product not expressly granted by this EULA are reserved by Copeland.

In the event any third-party claim that the Software Product or Licensee's possession and use of the Software Product infringes that third-party's intellectual property rights, Copeland will not be responsible for the investigation, defense, settlement, and discharge of any infringement claim.

- f. Dispute Resolution: The terms of this subsection will apply to all disputes that may arise out of, are connected with or relate to this EULA or the Software Product, subject only to the following two exceptions: (1) if Copeland reasonably believes Licensee or any of its Additional Users have in any manner acted or failed to act in any manner that may cause harm to Copeland or any third party, Copeland may seek injunctive or other appropriate relief in any court of competent jurisdiction; or (2) any dispute may, at the option of the claiming party, be resolved in small claims court provided that all claims by all parties in the dispute fall within the jurisdiction of the small claims court but subject to the informal resolution below. In no event will the terms of this section limit Emerson's ability to investigate complaints or reported violations of this EULA or to take any action Copeland deems necessary and appropriate to mitigate actions against Copeland, including reporting any suspected unlawful activity to law enforcement officials, regulators, or other third parties.
- i. Informal Resolution: If Licensee has any dispute with Copeland or any related third party, arising out of, relating to, or connected with the Software, you agree to contact Copeland, at the address noted below; provide a brief, written description of the dispute and contact information (including the username, if the dispute relates to an account); and give Copeland thirty (30) days within which to resolve the dispute to satisfaction. If Copeland does not resolve the dispute through good faith negotiations under this informal process, Licensee may pursue the dispute in accordance with the arbitration agreement below or in small claims court as described above.
- ii. - iii. Arbitration Agreement. Any claims by Copeland, or claims by Licensee not resolved by the informal resolution procedure or in small claims court as provided above, arising out of, relating to, or connected with this EULA or the Software Product must be asserted individually in binding arbitration administered by the American Arbitration Association ("AAA") in accordance with its Commercial Arbitration Rules and Supplementary Procedures for Consumer-Related Disputes (including utilizing desk, phone or video conference proceedings where appropriate and permitted to mitigate costs of travel). This EULA and each of its parts evidence a transaction involving interstate commerce, and the Federal Arbitration Act (9 USC §1, et. seq.) will apply in all cases and govern the interpretation and enforcement of the arbitration rules and arbitration proceedings. The arbitration shall be held at a location determined by AAA pursuant to the Rules and Procedures (provided such location is reasonably convenient for you), or at such other location as may be mutually agreed by Licensee and Copeland. Judgment on the award rendered by the arbitrator may be entered in any court of competent jurisdiction. In addition to and notwithstanding the terms stated above, the following will apply to your dispute(s): (1) the arbitrator, and not any federal, state, provincial, or local court or agency, will have exclusive authority to resolve any dispute relating to the interpretation, applicability, enforceability, or formation of this EULA including any claim that all or any part of this EULA is void or voidable; (2) the arbitrator will not have the power to conduct any form of class or collective arbitration nor join or consolidate claims by or for individuals; (3) the arbitrator's decision shall be controlled by the terms and conditions of this EULA and any of the other agreements referenced herein that Licensee may have entered into in connection with the Services; (4) the arbitrator shall apply Delaware law consistent with the AAA and applicable statutes of limitations, and shall honor claims of privilege recognized at law; (5) to the extent permitted by law, the arbitrator shall not have the power to award punitive, incidental, or consequential damages against Licensee or Copeland; (6) in the event the administrative fees and deposits that must be paid to initiate arbitration against Copeland exceed $125 USD for claims less than $10,000 or $375 for claims greater than $10,000 but less than $75,000, and Licensee is unable (or not required under the applicable Rules and Procedures) to pay any fees and deposits exceeding this amount, Copeland agrees to pay and/or forward them on Licensee's behalf, subject to ultimate allocation by the arbitrator. Further, if Licensee can demonstrate the costs of arbitration will be prohibitive as compared to the costs of litigation, Copeland will pay as much of Licensee's filing and hearing fees in connection with the arbitration as the arbitrator deems necessary to prevent the arbitration from being cost-prohibitive; and (7) with the exception of subpart (3) above, if any part of this arbitration provision is deemed to be invalid, unenforceable or illegal, or otherwise conflicts with the Rules and Procedures established by AAA, the balance of this arbitration provision shall remain in effect and shall be construed in accordance with its terms as if the invalid, unenforceable, illegal, or conflicting provision were not contained herein. If, however, subpart (3) is found to be invalid, unenforceable, or illegal, then the entirety of this Arbitration Provision shall be null and void, and neither you nor Copeland shall be entitled to arbitrate their dispute. For more information on AAA and/or AAA Rules and Procedures, visit the AAA Website at <http://www.adr.org>.
